

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

The present invention is referred as a formula or combination of two compounds, one of them being a non-
5 steroidal anti-inflammatory such as ketorolac, and the other an opiate analgesic known as tramadol, which are formulated in capsules.

The combination of these compounds produces a greater analgesic effect, with less dosage and less side 10 effects for the treatment of pain.